INDICTED; DEATH
PENALTY PROVIDED

26 COUNTS CHARGE KID-
NAPING FOR RANSOM AND MURDER.

HELD SANS BAIL

Confessions Disclose Long
Planned Crime by Loeb and Leopold.

The prisoners were indicted jointly. The murder indictment contained 11 counts and the kidnaping indictment, 16 counts.

Seventy witnesses gave testimony on which the grand jury based the indictments.

When the state preparing for an early trial—the prosecution may ask for trial on July 15—the next step in the prosecution will be to arrest the next two youths, probably next Monday.

Endorsed by Witnesses

The return of the indictments was a mere formality at which the presence of the two prisoners was not required. They were, in the meantime, playing indoor baseball in the small cell of the prison, comparing themselves much as ordinary prisoners.

Warden Westbrook said.

The arrangement was probably made by the state according to other plans of the state's attorney's office, but a definite date has not been fixed.

Each of the indicted youths had a deputy sheriff as a witness who appeared before the grand jury.

Assistant State's Attorney O. J. Chott went before Chief Justice Caverly after the indictments were returned, and moved the dismissal of the writ of Habeas corpus which counsel for the defendants had asked, and which was set for hearing today. The defense counsel offered no opposition and Judge Caverly ordered that the sheriff immediately take and keep the custody of the youths on the court's capias.

Hemfin in Jail

Attorney Benjamin Buchrach, coun-

key for Leopold, asked if the court's order meant that the prisoners were to be delivered over to the state's attorney general, he said they would remain there until further notice.

A nurse who once had attended Loeb, Mrs. Theodore Mandelker, called at the jail to see the boys daily. She said she and the boys were accessible, separated only from their callers by a steel screen. While standing at the screen, Mrs. Mandelker faintly showed her well-known features and ate an early breakfast. Their appetites have been good at all times since the murder, Leopold having told in his confession story that he and Nathan "stuffed" boy's body in their rented automobile while Loeb breakfasted on the regular prison fare. Leopold went out for his breakfast.

Dine on Chicken

At luncheon their meals were brought in from outside. First, Earl and Nathan dined on fried chicken and other delicacies. Cigars and cigarettes generally accompany the meals.

Whether anonymous and per-castle postal cards and letters have been received by the prisoners. One postal picture bore a bird's-eye view of Joliet prison. One correspondent wrote, "Don't worry, you're in a country where justice is measured by wealth."

CRIME PLANNED FOR MONTHS BY SLAYERS
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Chicago.—How Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, millionaires and brilliant university students, planned for months to kidnap for ransoms and kill for excitement and experiment on some rich man's son was disclosed in their confessions made public by State

Atty. Robert Crowe, after the grand jury indicted both on 26 counts charging the kidnapping for ransom and killing of Robert Franks on May 21. Both offenses are punishable with death.

Every detail of the crime was carefully planned long before it was perpetrated, mere chance furnishing the victim as he was walking to his home from the play ground of a

Stopped to Eat. — Enematically, the confession related how, with the victim slain and his body covered by an automobile robe in the rear of their rented car, the slayers stopped at a restaurant and ate sandwiches before carrying out their plans for the burial and demand for $10,000 ransom. Elmore details were worked out for the collection of the money, which was to be placed in a safe deposit vault and kept for a year before being spent, the process of getting this money was detailed on the part of the victim's relatives, and the fact of the slaying of the victim was not disclosed.

1,200 GATHER FOR CLASS EXERCISES

History, Will and Prophecy Given—91 Get Diplomas Monday Night.

Opening with a speech of welcome by the president of the class, Sven Sorenson, and followed by the presentation of the class history, will and prophecy, and award of the American Legion medal to Charles Knapp, semi-annual class day exercises for the graduating seniors of the high school were held in the auditorium at 8 p. m. Thursday. Twelve hundred persons were present, nearly filling the room.

The history took the form of a retrospective view, with the investigations of a noted scientist, Allen Nequette, revealing the long past glories of the class of 1924. The scene was opened with the discovery of the mummy of Joseph Steed, one of its members. Charlotte Clark, who took part were Sven Sorenson, Ruth Jensen, Virginia Miller, Alan Becker, Stuart Barless, Erwin Senf, Arthur McWay, Ellis Jensen, Josephine Stoll, Marjorie Hooper, Mable Staven, Mable Henke and Theodore Knutson.

A short excerpt from the class play, "The Charn School," and a scene depicting the junior-senior picnic last year were included. The text was written by Ruth Jensen, Virginia Miller and Charlotte Clark.

The class will in which bequests ranging from high scholastic grades to hair nets were made, was read by Goldwin Hallet, who also acted as writing. He was assisted by Helen Cushing and Stuart Bolton.

Thomas Doran, representing the graduating class, presented the mace, which was accepted by Miss Meyer, president of the new senior class. The scene of the class prophecy was in the waiting room of a railroad station, where various members of the class met and exchanged gossip concerning the rest. Those who took part were David Toole, Helen Thompson, Joseph Steed, the writers, Edna Connors and Fred Brown.

Medal to Knapp.
John W. Gross, commander of the American Legion, presented the medal for high man in athletics to Charles Knapp, and a gift, in appreciation of training in the class play and coaching of speaking teams, was presented to Miss Mildred Mandell by the class president, The program was concluded by the singing of farewell songs by the class. They were led by Ruth Fletcher, who with Elizabeth Toulon and Margaret Hemming, wrote them. Baccalaureate services will be held at 3 p. m. Sunday.

BELOIT AND AVON PICNICS SUCCESS

Events at Both Play Days Run Off as Usual Despite Rain Storm.

Two successful play days were held Thursday, despite a rain storm which fell at noon. The storm arrived at Gardner's woods, where the Avon gathering was assembled just as dinner was being served. Dinner was over when rain began to fall at Yost park, where the Beloit play day was held. Few of those present at either gathering went home on account of the rain, which was over before the afternoon events which athletic events were run off as planned.

A program of community singing and speaking was held at the Yost park picnic, while it was raining outside. Talks were given by E. T. Klassen and J. C. Nesbit, Miss Louise Jacobson led community singing.

Results of the athletic events at the Beloit township play day. All districts but one entered teams in a men's volleyball tournament, which resulted as follows: 1st, Washington; 2nd, Christ; 3rd, Geeler. Attendance at the play day was about 550.

Avon Winners.

Two points were awarded at Avon play day. Avon Center won first honors in school pupils' events, and Barr carried off the point division pennant. First honors in the girls' little league, and Barr school second honors. Dorothy Spink, Adams school, was the first girl to win first place in a 100 yard race, held at any of the play days. Her time reached an estimated altitude of 200 feet. Barr secured second place in school pupils' events and first place in the girls' little league. Second honors were won by Adams district, with Avon Center and Howard tying for third place.

Honors in individual events for school pupils were scored as follows: Playground ball—1st, Barr; 2nd, Howard; 3rd, Avon. Horse shoe tournament—1st, Avon Center; 2nd, Barr; 3rd, Fairview. Potato race—1st, Avon Center; 2nd, Howard; 3rd, Adams. Sack race—1st, Howard; 2nd, Avon Center; 3rd, Barr.

Three-legged race—1st, Avon Center; 2nd, Barr; 3rd, Avon village. Events for 14 year old boys' country school race resulted as follows: Horse shoe game—1st, Barr; Women's ball driving contest—1st, Avon Center; 2nd, Adams; 3rd, Fairview.

JEWS WILL OBSERVE FESTIVAL OF WEEKS

Shedown on Saturday ushers in the Jewish festival of Shavuoth, or Weeks, which is celebrated in the cycle of the pilgrim festivals, or feasts, in the Pentateuch. Its name "Weeks" is derived from the fact that its position in the Jewish calendar is exactly seven weeks after the second day of Passover. It is essentially an agricultural festival and while the Jews of today are no more an agricultural people, the festival of Weeks continues to impress upon their minds the idea of gratitude. The festival is observed mainly now with confirmation of boys and girls.

OTHER CITIES ON RIVER JOIN DRIVE

Beloit, Fort Atkinson and Rockford Are Cleaning Up Shore Lines.

Isaac Walton chapters of Janesville, Port Atkinson, Edgerton, Beloit and Rockford are opening campaigns to clean the banks of Rock river and beautify the stream, according to a report of a special committee of the local chapter.

Rockford, Beloit and Port Atkinson are now taking an active part in the work. The committee urges that the people of Janesville do the same in removing rubbish along the shores of the river within the city limits. Such collecting, it says, should be taken to the public dump on Goose Island or to the one on Western avenue.

"All property owners, residents and business firms along Rock river within the city limits are appealed to," says a statement issued by the "Ikeas." "Every effort will be appreciated, from the picking up and removal of such small rubbish as tin cans to the removal of unsightly piles of ashes, brush, driftwood, tumble down buildings or other refuse which follows in the wake of civilization."

"Accumulation of refuse matter is not only unsightly, but it is unsanitary, a menace to health and a breeding place for vermin. There is no more excuse for it on the banks of our river than on our streets or in the back alleys."

"Cleanliness is the first law and applies as much to our lakes and rivers and fields and the great outdoors as it does to our city or to individuals. Let's respond to this call of citizenship. Let's do our utmost not to be outdone by our neighboring cities along Rock river in this worthy 'Clean Up' campaign."

CHAMP YEGG; 1,500 THEFTS

Los Angeles — Los Angeles has one more world's champion in its midst today, according to the police, who say Melvin C. Nelson, 22, arrested yesterday on a charge of attempting to sell a stolen ring, confessed he had committed 1,500 burglaries in the past eight years, 25 of them since his arrival in Los Angeles two weeks ago. "That makes him the title holder," declared the custodian of police statistics after a perusal of the records.

APPEAL IS AUTHORIZED
Washington — By a senate resolution the attorney general was authorized to appeal from the federal court decision releasing from the custody of the senate that S. Danaherty, brother of the former attorney general.

40 Children to Get C. C. Prizes

Playground balls and baseball will be awarded Saturday to some 40 children in the winning blocks of five wards in the contest sponsored by the chamber of commerce during "Clean Up Week." The children are invited to report at the office of the health department in the city hall at 10 a. m. Saturday to receive the prizes.

Only children between 7 and 14 years of age are eligible and they must be residents of blocks declared the cleanest in the city.

Following are the boundaries of the winning blocks in the five wards which had entries in the contest:

First ward—Laurel avenue, Ravine, North Palm and North Chatham streets.

Second ward—Yuba and Walker streets, Prairie and St. Mary's avenue.

Third ward—Benton and Milton avenues, Elda street.

Sixth ward—Ruger and St. Lawrence avenues, Ringold and Fremont streets.

Seventh ward—Home Park and Garfield avenues, Clark and Division streets.

The champion block of the city has not yet been selected. Twenty-five dollars' worth of shrubbery is the award for this block.

GROUPING OF PHONE COMPANIES URGED

START POURING OF CONCRETE ON CITY'S BIG PAVING PROGRAM

Blackhawk district, the paving of 1924 is being laid in two sections. Pleasant street is 26 feet in width and the south 15 feet is being paved first. Transverse expansion joints are provided for every 22 feet, the joint consisting of a heavy cushion of asphalt and a composition.

Laying of the concrete in two trips will give a longitudinal joint in the center of the street to take care of any contraction or expansion. The other concrete paving laid in Janesville has not provided for this joint in the center.

The blind joint is attained by the concrete and groove method, the south half of the street now being laid having deep grooves in the sidewalk at the north edge. Thus when the north half of the street is paved, the wet concrete will fill in this groove and form a lock to keep both halves on the same plane.

The specifications call for a paving with a uniform thickness of 1.5 inches and a 4-inch crown in the center of the street. Heavy reinforcement is provided for in the form of No. 6 wire mesh being placed in the paving at the rate of 42 pounds per 100 square feet, or 42 pounds per square foot.

Birdsall on Job
R. D. Birdsall was on the job for the start of pouring Thursday afternoon and one of his sons is expected here later to operate the paving machine. Foreman Simpson is in direct charge of the paving crew and L. J. Summy, of the department of public works, is in the sidewalk of the city. Another city inspector is stationed at the gravel pit to see that the proper amount of cement is mixed with the gravel after it is loaded into the batch-box motor trucks.

TALKING LENROOT FOR VICE PRESIDENT

sonality like him than to be tied down to a providing of the duties while there are large projects like water power, radio development, and the general program of the department of commerce to be worked out in the few years.

About Mr. Hoover
Mr. Coolidge has offered no word of dissent to the talk of the Hoover candidacy. The secretary himself is opposed to it but some of the friends of the president are intrigued by the slogan "Coolidge and Hoover" and they think it would be a vote-getter. But supposing Mr. Coolidge wins, Mr. Hoover's service as a vote-getter would end and he would be buried in the vice presidency for four years. Supposing Mr. Coolidge didn't win, then Mr. Hoover's political fortunes so far as availability in 1928 is concerned—and he is still a relatively young man—would go by the boards. Mr. Hoover favored the League of Nations, has a splendid war record and a good administrative record since the war, and is popular with the women voters. But his opportunities for service, he feels, would be greater if left to manage a government department, which is what would happen if Mr. Coolidge were elected.

Lenroot on the List
Next to Mr. Hoover, there are other candidates who meet the presidential favor. There are, among others, Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin and former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois. The latter doesn't want to make the race but may be drafted. There are certain reasons why no man should decline a vice presidential nomination and one of them could probably be given by Hiram Johnson, who declined to be Warren Harding's running mate in 1920, and the other is the added circumstance that this year especially the election may be thrown into congress for settlement, and in the event of a deadlock in the house of representatives, the choice of a president might devolve upon the United States senate, with the two leading vice presidential nominees as the ones from whom the next incumbent of the White House might be selected.

When Lenroot Failed
Mr. Coolidge can hardly recommend that as a reason for acceptance, however, as he expects to win, and the argument isn't making as much headway with the hesitant ones as it should.

Senator Lenroot was to have been selected in 1920, when plans suddenly went awry on the mention of Calvin Coolidge's name in the last session of the convention. Mr. Lenroot is of the progressive school and, hailing from Wisconsin, might be expected to add some strength to the ticket, especially with Mr. LaFollette entering the presidential race as an independent. Mr. Lenroot was one of the "mild reservationists" group on the League of Nations issue and is thoroughly acceptable to the regular organization.

Wait for Development
The president's wishes will be respected, of course, but the chances are that the republican convention will not begin its session with a hard and fast understanding on the vice presidency, waiting somewhat for the development of sentiment of the delegates. For already there is beginning to be heard criticism that the republican convention is a "ruffian meeting" and that a few men are dictating its actions rather than the republican party as a whole.

There is no Safe Substitute for True Gasoline

Without Looking Inside You Know the Quality

NO longer do you accept unknown bulk goods of uncertain origin. Throughout all ordinary buying, your confidence is given to famous products that have won that confidence. You do not worry about quality. You accept the established trademark as the maker's voucher of uniform excellence.

Do likewise with your motor fuel. Here it is doubly important. Here quality and certainty of uniformity are more vital to running comfort and motor condition than they are in the matter of most of your household and business supplies.

Wadham's True Gasoline

identifies the motor fuel of recognized, established excellence. Its quality is always known—without questioning or analyzing. One week's fill of your tank corresponds exactly with all other fillings.

Carburetion, vaporization, ignition and explosion are fixed factors. They contribute smooth running and consistent action to your motor. They give you a gauge of dependability for every test of steady pulling or sudden emergency.

It is True Gasoline. It can leave no residue of free carbon or kerosene because integrity of manufacture excludes such material from its makeup. It is the quality brand of known and uniform excellence.

OPEN RATIFICATION CHILD LABOR FIGHT

Organizations Plan Strong Pressure on Legislatures of States.

Washington.—The scrub having passed the resolution for a child labor amendment to the constitution, the fight for state ratification already is under way with national women's organizations, labor federations, and church alliances working together to secure ratification when the state legislatures convene in January.

The estimates for the time necessary to secure the approval of three-fourths of the states vary from nine months to four years. The measure brought to hear upon state legislatures, however, will be very great, and it is generally conceded that the measure will go through in short order, clearing the way for congressional relief to child laborers under 18 years of age.

The final vote was taken after an all day debate, heard by crowded galleries in which were women who have been fighting steadily for the amendment since the federal law was declared unconstitutional two years ago, and leaders of almost all the large women's organizations which have been backing the measure.

Squirrels Take Over Governor's Office

(By Associated Press.)
Madison.—Gov. John J. Blaine had two busy visitors at the executive office in the capitol but he wasn't in.

Two young squirrels, wandered from the parental tree in the capitol park and got up on the capitol building. They made their way along the cornice of the building and entered a window of the governor's office. They hopped about the chair and desk and then made their way out of another window.

It was the first time squirrels succeeded in getting into the building, according to capitol employees.

ALL-GERMAN AUTO SHOW.

(By Associated Press.)
Berlin.—The German automobile manufacturers have decided to hold a national exhibit this fall, and during the same week it is planned to arrange a race for the grand prize of the Automobile Club of Germany. It is quite likely that this will be the last exclusively German auto exhibit, as in September or October the government's embargo on the importation of cars probably will be lifted.

Sons of Veterans to Complete Plan of Organization

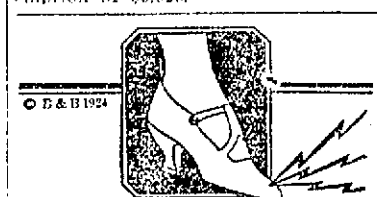

Completion of the organization of a Janesville camp of the Sons of Veterans will be made at a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. at 7:30 p. m. Saturday. Several from Madison and Milwaukee will be present to assist.

The post will be christened and officers will be elected and installed. Officers to be elected are: commander, Albert Reeder, Edward Reeder, J. A. Steiner, George Hudson, L. Evans, George Miller, Irving Gardner, Harry Gardner, Paul Gaffey, Harry Gaffey, Michael O'Brien, Walter Carman, Henry Paul, Charles Cox, Stanley G. Dunawidde, J. C. McDonald, Joseph Briggs, Will Apple, Frank Apple, Laurence Evans, Will Bohn, Charles Tinsdale, B. J. Winslow.
